

Celebrity's babies get VIP treatment!

We are excited to be taking part in Jewels & Pinstripes baby gift bags, given to celebrity parents celebrating their newest family additions. These amazing bags, filled with all the baby “must haves” are given at the announcement of a pregnancy, birth or adoption of a child/children.

Recent recipients of Boatman Geller’s adorable personalized stationery and matching luggage tags include Elisabeth & Tim Hasselbeck, Partrick & Jillian Dempsey, Jennifer Lopez & Marc Anthony, and Chris & Caroline O’Donnell.

“We are so thrilled to be working with Jewels & Pinstripes on these brilliant celebrity baby bags! What an exciting time for the mothers and fathers – most of who are parents for the first time,” states Kelly Karrmann, Marketing Manager. “It’s also fun when celebrities fall in love with our product and order from us again and again.”

Best of all, Jewels and Pinstripes includes a charitable component to all the gift bags. Additional bags are auctioned off at www.charityfolks.com to benefit The Plastics Foundation, a volunteer organization dedicated to correcting birth defects, congenital malformations and traumatic disfigurements for those who cannot afford these services.
